

Training Programme

Challenging our own ways of thinking

Day 3

9 Working in pairs

Exercise

20 min

Working in country pairs, participants should reflect on their learning from the day. In particular, they should design an activity they could use in their work in their own country which is derived from elements of the days learning. In so doing they should be clear about the aim of the activity, the attributes of the students that would be developed, the knowledge gained, and the pedagogy used.
